

Seminar

Business ethics

The seminar aims to teach students how to better frame ethical issues related to business and the economy, and to become more aware of the philosophical questions which underlie individual and collective decisions.